DEMOCRATS HAVE BIG DAY ON SATURDAY

Full Program Enjoyed During Entire Day

Democrats in all stations from the individual voter to L. A. Governor, to a former president of the United States had their say so here in Murray Saturday.

A number of leading Democrats spoke here Saturday at a rally and barbecue at the Murray City Park.

Gov. Wilson Wyatt was the featured speaker and spoke to a large crowd under threatening skies about his campaign for the United States Senate.

Wyatt scored Thurston Morton, incumbent who is running for reelection to the Senate.

Wyatt told his audience that "my opponent is frequently making mistakes and is getting wilder by the moment. I have never seen a man so obviously sure of defeat or one more desperate."

Gov. Wyatt predicted that Morton's "feet will fly out from under him in November."

He indicated that he thought that Morton's strength was slipping in Eastern Kentucky and predicted that he would not get half as many votes as he did when he defeated Earl Clements of the office.

Wyatt told the crowd that he was for Medicare. "I want medical care for our senior citizens so they can hold their heads high and have dignity, instead of getting a handout from the Federal government."

Speaking also were Congressman Frank Stubblefield, Agriculture Commissioner Emerson Beauchamp, George Hart and Representative Charlie Lassiter.

Speaking later at the college auditorium L. A. Governor Wyatt showed the filled auditorium his good luck pieces, a rabbit's foot, a four leaf clover, a horse shoe and a buckeye.

With these good luck pieces, he could not fail to win, Wyatt told the crowd.

Murray High Band Plays For Truman

The Murray High School Band entertained the large crowd as they waited to hear former President Harry S. Truman Saturday night at the college auditorium.

The entire band was not present for the occasion, however about thirty pieces of the eighty-five piece band was on hand.

They played "Hail to the Chief" as Mr. Truman walked on to the stage, and later played the "Missouri Waltz". Truman delighted both the band members and the audience by taking the baton from the hands of Band Director Phillip Shelton, and leading the band himself.

The band unwittingly caused laughter later in the program when they left the auditorium without the knowledge of master of ceremonies County Judge Robert O. Miller.

Miller had called for and received a fanfare when he introduced Emerson "Doc" Beauchamp. Later Miller called for a fanfare for Shelby Kinkaid, Wyatt's State Chairman.

The band had left after the first fanfare and Miller turned around to see the empty chairs where the band had been. "It just goes to show you don't know what goes on behind your back," Miller cracked to the tickled audience.

Several thousand people lined the parade route to see Mr. Truman leave from the court square down town. The parade left the court square and headed out West Main Street to the college.

The house was almost full by the time Truman and his party arrived.

Mr. Truman handed County Judge Robert Miller a compliment by telling his audience that he "was the best master of ceremonies that he had seen in a long time."

Following a lengthy list of introductions of notable present, a quartet named "The Clippers," composed of Murray State College students rendered two selections.

They sang "I'm Just Wild About Harry" and "Coney Island Baby." Miller told the crowd they had learned the version of the first song since Thursday.

Issues of the last legislature were discussed by Mr. Lassiter. He explained his views and why he voted in the manner that he did on various issues.

His closing remarks were that "as a good citizen, we must work together to have a government for the people, of the people, and by the people."

Mrs. Myrtle Farmer gave the invocation at the dinner meeting. Following the address, Mrs. Betty Sue Vinson, president, presided at the business session. The membership voted to sell fruit cakes during the holiday season to help finance the Calloway County Dental Clinic, one of their many projects. One new member was voted into the club, Mrs. Odell Vance. Two guests from the Kentucky Lake Area, were present, Mrs. Bennie Ross and Mrs. Leed Larson.

Mr. Mathis was a former resident of Dexter, Kentucky. He is survived by three sisters Mrs. Pearl Joyce and Mrs. Mary Joyce of Missouri; and Mrs. Susie Elkins of Dexter; three brothers Mr. Mathis of Cadiz route one, Hal Mathis of Dexter and Paul Mathis of Walnut Hill, Illinois.

The funeral will be held at 2:00 p. m. today at the J. H. Churchill Funeral Home with Bro. Henry Hargis officiating. Burial will be in the Stewart Cemetery.

The J. H. Churchill Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Lions Club Meets Tuesday

The Murray Lions Club will meet Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Methodist Church at 6:30 o'clock for its regular meeting. The meal will be served by the women's organization of the church.

All members are urged to be present for the meeting. A report will be given on the recent light bulb sale and an announcement made concerning the annual election to be held in the area soon.

Lassiter Is Speaker At B & P W Club

In a speech to the B. & P. W. Club here last Thursday night, Charlie Lassiter, State Representative, stated that something must be done to educate our citizens to vote.

Latest statistics show that there are 105 million eligible voters in the U. S. A. and only 65 million voted in the last election.

He stated that our schools, as well as our business people, should exert every effort to arouse interest in good government.

UPI White House Reporter

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy summoned top congressional leaders back to Washington and planned to make a nationwide television report at 7 p. m. (EDT) today because of an international situation of the "highest national urgency," the White House announced.

The announcement came after a weekend of mounting tension over international developments. The official silence on the situation finally was broken at noon.

The President's speech will be carried on radio and television by CBS, NBC, and ABC and by the Mutual Radio Network.

The Defense Department announced it would hold a briefing for reporters at 8 a. m. (EDT) — about 30 minutes after Kennedy finishes speaking — adding fuel to speculation that some military decision was involved.

The press also announced that the National Security Council would meet with the President beginning at 3:15 p. m. (EDT). Kennedy arranged to meet with the cabinet at 4:30 p. m. (EDT).

Sullivan said Kennedy would follow by meeting with Democratic and Republican leaders of the House and Senate at 5 p. m. (EDT).

The congressional leaders were summoned back to Washington early this morning. Air Force jets were dispatched across the country to bring them to the capital.

There was no hint of the nature of the crisis. The congressional leaders themselves did not know.

Former President Flays GOP; Discord Evident At Speaking

Former President Harry S. Truman was in his usual good form Saturday night when the subject was "Republicans". Mr. Truman had nothing good to say about the GOP and warned the approximately 4,000 persons in the college auditorium that "if you vote Republican, you deserve it."

He urged those present to cast their vote for Wilson W. Wyatt for United States Senate, and "give Kentucky the first representation they have had since Alben Barkley."

He told his audience that he believes that the Democrat Party is the party that serves the people. "Liberalism is the only way to 'hell' and 'damn' the former president told the filled auditorium that 'I'm a politician and damn proud of it'."

This merely means that I understand government, he continued. A politician is a person who works in government and understands it, he continued.

The nation is "paying for eight years of a do-nothing administration," Truman continued, "but we now have an administration that has come to grips with the many outstanding difficulties with boldness, intelligence, and courage. Given time and our full cooperation, I have every confidence that in due time, we will resume our progress that was interrupted some years ago."

The peppy 78 year old former president scored the nation's press, saying that "the press don't like me and I don't give a damn."

He did say that the working press, the men and women who actually follow him and write up the stories are all right. The ones who are at fault are the owners, he continued. They "blue-pencil" the articles written by their reporters so as not to offend their advertisers.

He attacked what he called a series of scandals in the Republican party during their eight years of administration. He listed Dixon-Yates and others which he said was typical of the GOP.

He urged support of the Democrat party because "it is the only party which can get something done."

He gave the Democrats credit for TVA, a vast flood control plan, parks and recreation area over the nation. He told the audience that if you want to stop this program, "then vote Republican and you'll get what you deserve."

Truman appealed for the support of Wilson Wyatt in his race against Senator Morton. The election of Wyatt to the Senate, then two years later the election of another Democratic Senator from Kentucky, will keep the Democrat program going, he said. He urged a completely Democratic delegation from Kentucky to the national Congress.

Quotes From The News

By United Press International

NEW DELHI — Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon, denouncing the communist Chinese regime he often has been accused of taking too lightly: "Because of her expansionist policy China has been completely isolated and segregated from the rest of the world."

WASHINGTON — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, arguing for more responsibility in criticisms of President Kennedy's foreign policy: "I think at this point no matter how bad a mistake of the past might be gauged by someone else, I think it is not the time to be badgering the administration on what it is going to do next."

DERBY, England — Underwear model Fay Patmore, one of several young ladies modeling women's lingerie across the street from an address by Labor Party leader Hugh Gaitskell: "I've never had so much attention in my life. I wonder how Mr. Gaitskell got on?"

ISLE OF ALDERNEY — Jeweler C. H. Richard, victim of the first major robbery to strike this English Channel island in many years: "It's a very serious matter. It may be commonplace in London, but a crime like this in Alderney is a bit like sacrilege. I believe someone once broke my grandfather's window, but that was only to get locked up because he did not fancy joining the army."

Ten Years Ago Today

Lamar Hendon, age 59, passed away yesterday at his home on Murray route five. His death came suddenly and is attributed to a heart attack. Mr. Hendon was a Deacon at the Murray Church of Christ.

The driver of a Davis Transport Truck was trapped for more than an hour this morning when his truck, loaded with gasoline, overturned as he was entering Golden Pond and pinned him beneath it. The Murray Rescue Squad aided in freeing him from the wreckage.

One of Murray's oldest citizens passed away yesterday morning when Mrs. E. S. "Miss Lottie" Diuguid, Sr., succumbed. Her death came at her home on West Main Street.

More rooms and apartments are needed for the families of the employees of the H. C. Price Contracting Company. The families are moving to the city at a fast pace today and all are in need of housing.

'Men of Note' Make Good With Big-Name Bands

World of Music, watch out for the Men of Note. This group, formed at Murray State in the late 1930s, has made a good-sized contribution to various big-name bands throughout the country.

The Phi Mu Alpha band grew out of a need for a dance band in this area. As there were no such bands here at that time, the Men of Note first played for all dances on the MSC campus. Originally a 10-piece group, the band now has 16 members.

Some former members who have made good with big-name bands are Lynn Barton, who went on to play with Ralph Marterie, and O. A. Lowe, who has played with Tex Beneke.

Dee Barton, who left MSC about six years ago, is now with Stan Kenton. Dee's brother, Willie, has been in the Buddy Morrow band and with Don Jacoby's College All-Star Group.

Tom Ferguson, who left Murray in 1955, has played with Clyde McCoy and Ray McKinley, and now does studio work with NBC. With Harry James now is Joe Hambrick, who has also spent some time with Al Hirt.

The 1962-63 Men of Note are fronted by Jim Cowger, who also plays lead alto. Paul Goodwin, George Stevens, Larry Wyatt, and Rich Maize are on the trumpets, with Charlie Hutchens playing second alto.

The tenor section is the territory of Don Peck and Gary Kaubach, and Cecil Glass takes care of the baritone sax. Trombones are handled by Ron Cowherd, Johnny Graham, Al Farrell, and Royce Patterson, with Jack Gardner at the piano, Paul Davis, on bass, and Jim Latimer, who has also played on several road bands, on drums.

The members of the band write their own arrangements. The band functions primarily as a lab band for students practicing jazz arranging; with this experience, several of the former members have gone on to write for some of the top bands of the nation.

The 1962-63 Men of Note are scheduled to play at one of the freshman orientation meetings this fall, and will tour the high schools in this area next month. The band will also play for the Homecoming dance, and will present a concert in the spring.

They're Traditional Cedar Chest Still Popular

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

SOME things never go out of style. The cedar-lined chest is one of them. It's undergone a number of changes, but it's still a best-seller.

For one change, it has a new name! Old Name: It used to be called a "hope chest". That's because it was bought by a girl—long before there was even a prospective husband in sight—who hopefully filled it with trousseau items.

Now it's known as a "sweetheart chest" because 80 per cent of current purchasers are young bachelors selecting a gift for their one-and-only girl!

Its appearance has changed, too, and for the better. Inside And Out: Grandma's hope chest was an eyesore—cedar inside and highly shellacked, knotty, yellow-streaked brown cedar on the outside. The only place it could properly be stored was out of sight in the attic.

Granddaughter's sweetheart cedar chest is a handsome show piece, a well-designed and versatile piece of furniture to put on display.

New Looks: It's versatile because it comes in new shapes, sizes and finishes to match or attractively mix with a variety of decorating schemes.

A pair of attractive console cedar chests in rich oil walnut, for example, serve as end tables at either end of a sofa. They can also be placed side by side to form a window seat or wall bench or can be arranged at the foot of twin beds.

TWIN CONSOLE cedar chests in oil walnut are used at the foot of twin beds, providing decorative storage spot for linens. The chests can also double as benches or end tables.

Another console chest adds interest to a living room or hallway. It's mounted on one side of a long base table, leaving table space available for displaying plants or bric-a-brac.

Collegiate Style: For the campus crowd, there's a chest with a removable plexiglass section on the lid designed to display school banners, snapshots and other collegiate memorabilia before marriage, and wedding pictures after a girl graduates with her Mrs.

All new cedar chests aren't long and low, however; although this is the traditional and popular shape. Slim And Tall: Some are "tallboy" designs, slim and high, that have a hanger rod to accommodate wardrobe storage or adjustable shelves for linens and blankets plus one or two drawers.

There's no doubt that the cedar chest has changed. It's still a most romantic piece of furniture but it's graduated with full decorating honors!

APPEARANCES ARE deceiving. This doesn't look like a cedar chest but it is one that's graduated with full honors.

Jinx Still On; Tech Wins 16-12

The Murray State Thoroughbreds failed to break a home field jinx here Saturday afternoon and lost to Tennessee Tech 16 to 12. It was the first victory of the year for a winless Tennessee Tech team and continued a home field jinx for Murray State which has failed to win a single game before a home crowd.

The two Murray scores came in the second and third quarters with both extra-point attempts failing.

Murray's first score came in the second quarter when they marched 91 yards down the field after Murray had recovered a Tech fumble. Tony Fioravanti passed to Gary Foltz for the score. The kick was wide for the extra point.

Foltz pulled down another Fioravanti pass from 37 yards away for the second score. The pass play for the extra point was good, but was nullified by a penalty. The second attempt was broken up.

Tennessee Tech received their first score in the first period when halfback Jim Shaeffer ran eight yards for the tally. Tech recovered a Murray fumble on the Murray 9. The extra point try by Dale Long was good.

In the second quarter, after driving from their own 31 yard line, Tech scored when quarterback Jim Ragland took it over from the four. Logg's extra point try was good this time also.

Tech got an added two points when Murray was deep in their own territory and a quarterback Fioravanti was caught behind his own goal line.

Tech got 220 yards rushing and 76 yards in the air, while Murray marked up 125 yards on the ground and 80 yards in the air.

Murray's Tommy Glover turned in a good performance in ground gaining marking up 47 yards in 14 tries.

Tennis Outlook Bright

The MSC tennis team, with experienced members of last year's championship OVC squad and several promising newcomers, appears to have the talent to cap the title again this year.

Coach Chad Stewart, in his first year at the helm, has four veterans returning from last year's squad that finished 182 for the season.

Dave Payne, No. 2 OVC singles champ, Jerry Rhoads, No. 3 singles champ, Terry Tinnin, No. 4 singles runner-up, and Tom Higgins, No. 2 doubles co-winner, form the nucleus for what Coach Stewart stated could develop into a good team, and one with plenty of depth.

Coach Stewart has hopes that Bill Bowen, sophomore, transfer from Eastern Illinois, and Bob

San Francisco—Super Shell with Platformate has just delivered a mileage bonus of 4.33 percent. Platformate is Super Shell's mileage ingredient. Shell engineers test Super Shell for mileage in many different types of cars, in many different places. Here's how the test above was run. Exactly 250 cc (about half a pint) of a fuel blended without Platformate was fed into the test car's engine. The car was started, accelerated to 30 miles per hour, then held there until fuel ran out and the car rolled to a stop. Distance: 6186 feet (indicated by dotted line in background). Next, test was repeated, using Super Shell—the same fuel as before but with Platformate added. Precise same volume of fuel. Same car. Same speed. Same driver. Same conditions. Distance: 6454 feet. That's 4.33 percent farther than the car traveled with non-Platformate gasoline.

MILEAGE TEST

New documented tests prove that one of Super Shell's 9 ingredients packs extra mileage into every gallon

THE picture above was snapped a few moments after Super Shell with an extra mileage ingredient called Platformate delivered a mileage bonus of 4.33 percent.

That's a typical result from a series of mileage tests Shell engineers recently ran on the outskirts of San Francisco.

The tests compared two gasolines. One was a gasoline Shell scientists purposely blended without Platformate. The other was Super Shell—the same gasoline as before but with Platformate added.

Shell engineers used a 1962 convertible for the tests. You may be driving a similar car right now.

50 West 50 Street, New York 20, N. Y.

Platformate gets its name from the platinum re-forming process used to make it.

Pressures up to 600 pounds per square inch and temperatures up to 1000 degrees literally tear petroleum apart. A precious platinum catalyst then helps re-form the petroleum into super-energy components.

RESULT: Platformate can release more energy per gallon than the finest 100-octane aviation gasoline. Your engine can convert extra energy into extra mileage.

Super Shell has 9 ingredients for top performance

Extra mileage is just one part of the top performance story. Super Shell's other ingredients complete the picture. Here's what they are and what they do.

TCP* for power, mileage, longer plug life.

Pentane mix*—for fast "warm-up."

Butane—for quick starts.

Anti-knock mix*—to resist all kinds of knock.

Alkylate*—to help control "high-speed knock."

"Cat-cracked" gasoline*—for power.

Anti-icer*—added in cold weather to help check carburetor icing stalls.

Gum preventive*—to help keep carburetors clean inside.

Super Shell—the gasoline with 9 ingredients for top performance

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 2889212.

Shoes Win Awards

Ten Of The United States' Outstanding Craftsmen Honored For Their High Fashion Footwear Designs

By SUSAN BARDEN

TEN DESIGNERS—nine men and a woman—were selected this year to receive the American Shoe Designer Award which is presented annually by the Leather Industries of America.

Award Requirements The awards were given for achievements in creating and popularizing styles which have made high fashion, good workmanship and quality available to the mass market.

Here are predictions from these eminent authorities on shoe styles for 1963.

Women's dressy shoes will have many cut-outs, closed toes and open backs. The heels will range from low to very high and the favored colors will be reds, greens and blues. Many of these will be in matte luster finish.

For daytime there will be a variety of shapes: oval toes, slip-on square toes and tapered toes with heel heights from tiny jets to high stilettos. Boots will also be important for both town and country. Men's styles will tend toward brogues, but instead of being the heavy footwear of old the shoes will have a sturdy look and be made of soft, lightweight leathers. The high-rising boot look will also be popular.

Renovated Moccasin

Another style, the renovated moccasin with the new trim leather sole, tapered silhouette, fine-grained leather upper and handstitching, will be worn for business as well as leisure.

Boys' shoes will include the perennial oxfords, but they will also have plenty of small-sized brogues and boots just like their fathers'.

Little girls' shoes will be colorful footnotes with plenty of self bows and leather trim. Patterns will also be available in a large color range.

In the women's field winners were Herbert Copeland, Joseph Gagliardi, Lou Keller, Gene Weddush, Marian Woods and the late Albert Bogutz.

For men's shoes: Louis Bianchini and Tibor Toti. And for the children: John Langlois and John Thompson.

THE SMART WALKING shoes by Marian Woods are in an antique boue shade with a bronze stacked Cuban heel.

FOOTSAVING EDUCATION

by Maurice Ryan

Why are children's shoes so expensive?

The correct answer to this question amuses some people, angers others and doesn't help the budget a bit. It might save a pair of feet if Mom can use it to convince Dad that shoe prices are not bad.

The real reason that shoes are expensive is because we have to have TWO of them. When we look at a pair of five dollar shoes we should think of them individually as twenty-five each. That is how the manufacturer must look at them when he figures his cost of material and labor.

A single shoe at twenty-five or three fifty is a far better value than a hat, purse or a necktie at the same price. The shoe must withstand grinding on sandstone and yet not blister little feet. It wades through puddles, kicks cans, shinies up trees and comes up smiling with a little polish.

With the exception of glasses, nothing that we buy for a child can affect his future happiness as much as the footwear that protects the very foundation of bodily health.

was a large number of invited guests, including county judges of the area, State Representatives and State Senators of the area, state officials and dignitaries. Congressman Frank Stubblefield, Congressman Natcher of the Second District, Wilson Wyatt, various party officials and others were also on the stage.

Former Lt. Governor Harry Lee Waterfield introduced the former president. Waterfield told the audience that this was his second opportunity to introduce president Truman. The first time was in 1959 when the invitation for him to make the introduction was suddenly withdrawn when he lost the nomination for governor. "Someone wanted me to eat crow," he said. "Apparently I have served my penance now and am acceptable to everyone here to introduce Mr. Truman." Waterfield said. He indicated in his introduction that the invitation extended to him to introduce Truman was an effort to draw all Democrats closer together.

Other evidences of discord were apparent when former governor and U. S. Senator Earle C. Clements refused to sit on the stage with other Democrats.

Clements said no. Calloway County Judge Robert Miller, who master of ceremonies, left the stage and asked Clements to come to the platform.

Again he refused. Clements later told reporters that he "didn't want to sit on the stage with some of the ones on it. One newsman asked him if he were still a Democrat."

"I'm a better Democrat than some of those fellows up there," he said.

Another reporter remarked that Clements was "looking well" and Clements replied:

"Well I'm not associating with some of those fellows I used to associate with."

Clements said he received no formal invitation to sit on the stage.
